Important Notice: North Carolina's Reference to the Internal Revenue Code Updated - Impact on North Carolina Corporate and Individual Income Tax Returns

On June 30, 2020, Governor Cooper signed into law Session Law 2020-58 (House Bill 1080). This legislation updated North Carolina's reference to the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code") from January 1, 2019, to May 1, 2020. This means changes made to the Code as of May 1, 2020, including changes made by the Further Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2020 ("FCAA") and the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act ("CARES Act"), (collectively, "federal tax provisions") apply when calculating an individual's or corporation's State income tax liability to the extent North Carolina follows the federal tax provisions and does not decouple from the changes.

The purpose of this notice is to identify and explain the decoupling of North Carolina law from certain federal tax provisions in the FCAA and CARES Act.¹ If the decoupling provisions impact a taxpayer's State income tax liability, specific instructions are provided for completing, or amending, the 2019 corporate or individual income tax return. Any impact to the 2020 corporate or individual income tax returns will be addressed in the instructions for the 2020 income tax returns, which should be released in early January 2021.

Importantly, certain federal tax provisions do not apply to North Carolina because of previously existing differences between federal and State law including: (1) North Carolina begins with federal adjusted gross income ("AGI") instead of federal taxable income ("FTI"), (2) North Carolina does not conform to the federal standard deduction amount (3) North Carolina does not conform to federal itemized deductions, and (4) North Carolina does not conform to federal bonus depreciation or larger Section 179 limits.²

- Federal Provision - Suspended the 80% NOL carryforward deduction limitation under Code § 172 until tax year 2021 for NOLs incurred during tax years 2018, 2019, and 2020.
- State Provision – An NOL carryforward deduction taken in tax years 2019 or 2020 resulting from an NOL incurred in tax years 2018 or 2019 income must be added to a taxpayer’s AGI to the extent that the federal deduction exceeds the amount allowed under the provisions of Code § 172 as enacted as of January 1, 2019.
Note. The amount added back to a taxpayer’s AGI may be deducted in five equal installments beginning in tax year 2021.
- 2019 Individual Income Tax Return – You must add the amount by which the 2018 NOL carryforward deduction exceeds the amount allowed under the provisions of Code § 172(a)(2)(B) as enacted as of January 1, 2019 to Form D-400 Schedule S, Part A, Line 5.

Business Interest Expense Limitation

- Federal Provision – Increased the limit on deductions for business interest expense under Code § 163(j) from 30% to 50% of a taxpayer’s adjusted taxable income for tax years 2019 and 2020.
- State Provision – The business interest expense deduction under Code § 163(j) remains at 30% of adjusted taxable income.
- 2019 Individual Income Tax Return – You must add the amount of business interest expense deducted on the federal return in excess of the 30% of adjusted taxable income limitation on Form D-400 Schedule S, Part A, Line 5.

Excess Business Loss Limitation for Tax Years 2018, 2019, and 2020

- Federal Provision – Suspended Code § 461(l) excess business loss limitation for tax years 2018, 2019, and 2020.
- State Provision – The amount of taxpayer’s excess business loss, as defined under the provisions of Code § 461(l) as enacted as of January 1, 2019, for tax years 2018 through 2020 must be added to a taxpayer’s AGI. This addition does not apply if a taxpayer’s NOL addback includes excess business losses.
Note. The amount added back to a taxpayer’s AGI may be deducted in five equal installments beginning in tax year 2021.
- 2019 Individual Income Tax Return – You must add the amount of your excess business loss to Form D-400 Schedule S, Part A, Line 5.

Payment Protection Program Loan Forgiveness and Expense Deductions

- Federal Provision - Excluded the amount of a forgiven Payment Protection Program (“PPP”) loan from gross income.
- State Provision – Amount of forgiven PPP loan is not included in the calculation of NC taxable income. However, any expenses paid using the proceeds of the PPP loan that are deducted for federal tax purposes expenses are not deductible when calculating NC taxable income.
- 2019 Individual Income Tax Return – You must add the amount of any expenses deducted on your federal return on Form D-400 Schedule S, Part A, Line 5 if (1) the payment of the expenses result in PPP loan forgiveness, and (2) you excluded from gross income the amount of forgiven PPP loan.

Limitation on Charitable Contributions

- Federal Provision – Suspended the IRC § 170 limit on charitable contributions (60% of AGI) for tax year 2020.
- State Provision – The IRC § 170 60% of AGI limit on charitable contributions remains in effect for tax year 2020.

Payment Protection Program Loan Forgiveness and Expenses

- Federal Provision - Excluded the amount of forgiveness of a Payment Protection Program (“PPP”) loan from gross income.
- State Provision – NC conforms to the exclusion of income from the forgiveness of a PPP loan. However, any expense deducted on the taxpayer’s federal return must be added back to adjusted gross income if the payment of the expense results in PPP loan forgiveness and the taxpayer excludes the income from the forgiveness of the PPP loan from federal gross income.
- 2019 C-Corporation Income Tax Return – You must add the amount of expenses deducted on your federal return on Form CD-405, Schedule H, Line 1.h if (1) payment of the expenses result in PPP loan forgiveness, and (2) you excluded from gross income the amount of forgiven PPP loan.

Amended Returns

If you have already filed a 2019 North Carolina income tax return and your federal adjusted gross income (for individuals) or federal taxable income (for corporations) is impacted by the amendments to federal law included in FCAA and CARES Act or by the provisions of federal law from which North Carolina has decoupled, you must file an amended North Carolina return. If the amended return reflects additional tax due, you will avoid a late-payment penalty provided the additional tax reflected on the amended return is paid when the amended return is filed. If the amended return reflects additional tax due but some or all of the additional tax is not paid when the amended return is filed, the unpaid tax is subject to applicable penalties. In addition, statutory interest accrues on tax not paid by the original due date of the tax return. Taxpayers that owe additional North Carolina income tax may request a waiver of penalties within the provisions of the Department’s Penalty Waiver Policy.
