Cash vs. Credit Cards

- 1. Convenience: Credit cards are more convenient.
- 2. Online Purchases: Credit Cards facilitate online purchases
- 3. Security: Credit card payments are more secure, less susceptible to theft or loss, easier to trace.
- 4. Costs: Credit card companies charge processing fees;Companies use time and resources counting and depositing the cash.
- 5. Accounting: Credit card payments are easier to track and record. Cash requires manual counting and recording.
- 6. Customer preferences: Some customers prefer to pay with cash, while others prefer to use credit cards.

Conclusion: Consider offering multiple payment options to give customers more flexibility and convenience.

Getting Paid Faster

Electronic Collections

1.Online Payment Processing: Businesses can use online payment processors like PayPal, Stripe, or Square to receive payments from customers electronically.

2.Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT): EFT is a way to electronically transfer funds from one bank account to another. The two main tyles of EFTs are ACH (Automated Clearing House) and Wire Transfer.

a.Wire Transfers are processed in real-time, while ACH transfers are batched and processed in batches.

b.ACH transfers typically take 1-3 business days to complete, while wire transfers usually complete within the same day or less c.Banks generally charge less for ACH transfers and more for wire transfers.

d.ACH transfers are typically used for recurring payments, Wire Transfers are used for one-time, high-value transactions.

e.Security: Wire transfers are considered more secure than ACH transfers, as wire transfers are processed in real-time and can only be reversed or canceled under certain circumstances. In contrast, ACH transfers can be reversed or canceled by the sender or the receiver within a certain timeframe.

3.Payment in Crypto

Pulling Payments

ACHs can pull money from a customer's bank account' using a process called Automated Clearing House (ACH) debits. You need customer's authorization and bank account information. Use your bank or a third-party payment to set up You must have the customer's proper authorization and comply with all relevant regulations.
